

PROGRAMME

ICAME 38

24–28 May 2017 | Charles University | Prague

WEDNESDAY 24 MAY

PRE-CONFERENCE WORKSHOPS

Workshop 1

Genderlectal differentiation in the Outer and Expanding Circles? Corpus-linguistic explorations

Workshop convenor: Tobias Bernaisch (Justus Liebig University Gießen)

| Room A (213) | | |
|--------------|--|--|
| 10:15-10:30 | Tobias Bernaisch | Workshop opening |
| 10:30-11:00 | Beke Hansen | Gender paradox ² – Late female lead in the restructuring of deontic modality in Indian English |
| 11:00-11:30 | Claudia Lange and Sven Leuckert | Indian English tag questions revisited: the role of gender and style in social interaction |
| 11:30-12:00 | Lucía Loureiro-Porto | Genderlectal differences between democratic and colloquial uses of the language in Outer Circle varieties? |
| 12:00-12:30 | Christoph Wolk | Gender-based variation in part-of-speech patterns across the inner and outer circle |
| 12:45-13:30 | LUNCH BREAK | |
| 13:30-14:00 | Robert Fuchs | Sociolinguistic variation in intensifier usage in Indian and British English: Gender and language in the Inner and Outer Circle |
| 14:30-15:00 | Tobias Bernaisch | Genderlectal variation with hedges in the Inner and Expanding Circle? Corpus-based explorations of British English and Southeast Asian Englishes |
| 15:00-15:15 | Tobias Bernaisch | Workshop closing |

Workshop 2

Corpora et comparatio linguarum: Textual and contextual perspectives

Workshop convenors: Hilde Hasselgård and Signe Oksefjell Ebeling (University of Oslo)

| Room B (220) | | |
|--------------|--|---|
| 10:00-10:05 | Signe Oksefjell Ebeling and Hilde Hasselgård | Welcome |
| 10:05-10:35 | Libuše Dušková | Parallel corpora and contrastive linguistics: where to look for pitfalls |
| 10:35-10:55 | Lobke Ghesquière and Lot Brems | Time, preference and intensity: A contrastive study of rather (than) and eerder (dan) |
| 10:55-11:15 | Sylvi Rørvik and Marte Monsen | Marked themes in English and Norwegian academic texts in the field of didactics |
| 11:15-11:30 | Hilde Hasselgård | Indefinite subjects in English and Norwegian |

| | | |
|-------------|--|--|
| 11:30-11:40 | BREAK | |
| 11:40-12:00 | Denisa Šebestová and Markéta Malá | The expression of interpersonal functions in Czech and in English: the Czech suffix -pak and its translation counterparts |
| 12:00-12:15 | Thomas Egan | Contexts of failure |
| 12:15-12:30 | Karin Axelsson | Questions and responses in fiction texts in English and Swedish |
| 12:30-12:45 | Jolanta Šinkūnienė | Evidential adverbials and stance in English and Lithuanian journalistic discourse: a semantic functional study |
| 12:45-13:30 | LUNCH BREAK | |
| 13:30-13:50 | Jenny Ström Herold and Magnus Levin | Translating textual indeterminacy: English supplementive ing -clauses and their German and Swedish translations |
| 13:50-14:10 | Marcus Callies and Magnus Levin | A comparative corpus study of dislocation structures in live football commentary |
| 14:10-14:30 | Rosa Rabadán, Vera Colwell and Hugo Sanjurjo-González | Food in context: yumminess and yuckiness in Spanish-into-English restaurant menus |
| 14:30-14:40 | BREAK | |
| 14:40-15:00 | Ekaterina Lapshinova-Koltunski and Kerstin Kunz | English vs. German from a textual perspective: Looking inside the chain intersection |
| 15:00-15:15 | Mats Johansson and Lene Nordrum | Swedish orka viewed through its English correspondences – insufficient energy or couldn't be bothered? |
| 15:15-15:30 | Karin Aijmer | The Swedish modal auxiliary ska/skall and English shall |
| 15:30-15:45 | Anne-Line Graedler | Contrastive analysis of L2 students' cohesive choices in translation |
| 15:45-15:47 | Signe Oksefjell Ebeling and Hilde Hasselgård | Closing of workshop |

Workshop 3

Investigating variation in legal discourse

Workshop convenors: Teresa Fanego (Santiago de Compostela) and Paula Rodríguez-Puente (Oviedo)

| | | |
|-------------------|---|--|
| RoomC(243) | | |
| 10:00-10:30 | Teresa Fanego and Paula Rodríguez-Puente | Investigating variation in legal discourse: An overview |
| 10:30-11:00 | Donata Berūkštienė | Structural types of lexical bundles in court judgments in English and Lithuanian: A corpus-driven analysis |
| 11:00-11:30 | Giuliana Diani | Lexical bundles in English and Italian legal texts: A cross-linguistic analysis |
| 11:30-12:00 | Randi Reppen and Meishan Chen | A comparison of lexical bundles in spoken courtroom language across three periods |
| 12:00-12:30 | Nicholas Groom | British patents of invention 1711–2011: A corpus-based diachronic genre analysis |
| 12:30-13:30 | LUNCH BREAK | |
| 13:30-14:00 | Anu Lehto | The representation of authorities and citizens in Acts of Parliament in 1800–2000 |
| 14:00-14:30 | Paula Rodríguez-Puente | Are law reports a hybrid text type? Exploring the oral/literate continuum in the Corpus of Historical English Law Reports, 1535–1999 |
| 14:30-15:15 | Douglas Biber | Are law reports an 'agile' or an 'uptight' register? Historical change in the use of phrasal complexity features |
| 15:15-15:45 | Discussion and round up | |

Workshop 4

Back to text – Contextualizing corpus data in historical and variationist English linguistics

Workshop convenors: Kristin Bech (University of Oslo) and Ruth Möhlig-Falke (Heidelberg University)

| Room D (319) | | |
|--------------|---|---|
| 9:00-9:15 | Kristin Bech and Ruth Möhlig-Falke | Welcome |
| 9:15-9:45 | Toni Healey | The enabling archive: Old English textual transmission and the Dictionary of Old English Corpus (DOEC) |
| 9:45-10:15 | Ursula Lenker | Reclaiming space – The manuscript context of Old English Biblical texts in the Helsinki Corpus |
| 10:15-10:45 | Jacob Thaisen | Mediaeval texts in their material context |
| 10:45-11:00 | BREAK | |
| 11:00-11:30 | Irma Taavitsainen and Turo Hiltunen | What linguists need to know about early medical writing? |
| 11:30-12:00 | Lynn Anthonissen and Peter Petré | The EMMA corpus: balancing big data and contextualization |
| 12:00-12:30 | Manfred Markus | The Heritage of Late Modern English dialects in Middle English (based on EDD Online) |
| 12:30-13:30 | LUNCH BREAK | |
| 13:30-14:00 | Magnus Huber | The communicative and textual context of the Old Bailey Corpus 1720–1913 |
| 14:00-14:30 | Magnus Huber | The Database of Early Pidgin and Creole Texts (DEPiCT): assessing the reliability of early descriptions of contact languages |
| 14:30-14:45 | BREAK | |
| 14:45-15:30 | Kristin Bech and Ruth Möhlig-Falke | Concluding discussion: How much contextual knowledge needs to – and can be – included in historical, diachronic, and/or variational corpus linguistic investigations? |

CONFERENCE PROGRAMME

WEDNESDAY 24 MAY

| | | | | |
|---------------------|---|--|---|---|
| 8:45 | Registration opens | | | Ground floor |
| | Room A (213) | Room B (220) | Room C (243) | Room D (319) |
| Workshops | Workshop 1 | Workshop 2 | Workshop 3 | Workshop 4 |
| Pre-lunch sessions | 10:15-12:30 | 10:00-12:30 | 10:00-12:30 | 9:00-12:30 |
| workshop convenors | Tobias Bernaisch | Hilde Hasselgård and Signe Oksefjell Ebeling | Teresa Fanego and Paula Rodríguez-Puente | Kristin Bech and Ruth Möhlig-Falke |
| | Genderlectal differentiation in the Outer and Expanding Circles? Corpus-linguistic explorations | Corpora et comparatio linguarum: Textual and contextual perspectives | Investigating variation in legal discourse | Back to text – Contextualizing corpus data in historical and variationist English linguistics |
| 12:30-13:30 | Lunch – 1st floor | | | |
| Post-lunch sessions | 13:30-15:15 | 13:30-15:47 | 13:30-15:45 | 13:30-15:30 |

| | | |
|-------------|--|--------------------------------|
| 16:15-16:30 | Opening address by doc. Mirjam Friedová, Ph.D., Dean of Faculty of Arts, Charles University | Amphitheatre (room 300) |
| 16:30-17:30 | Plenary. Chair: Karin Aijmer Michael Stubbs: TEXT, INTERTEXT AND MEANING: with illustrations from Conan Doyle's stories about Sherlock Holmes | |

| | | |
|-------------|--|--|
| 18:30-19:00 | Opening address by prof. PhDr. Martin Kovář, Ph.D., Vice-Rector of Charles University | Karolinum Ovocný trh 5, Praha 1 |
| | Welcome concert | |
| 19:00 | Welcome reception | |

Work-in-progress papers are marked in blue

Software demonstrations are marked in green

THURSDAY 25 MAY

| | | | |
|-------------|--|---|--------------------------------|
| 8:45-9:00 | Opening address by the chair of the ICAME Executive Board Joybrato Mukherjee | | Amphitheatre (room 300) |
| 9:00-10:00 | Plenary. Chair: Michaela Mahlberg | | |
| | Wolfgang Teubert: The meaning of corpus linguistics | | |
| 10:00-10:30 | Coffee break – 1st floor | | |
| 10:30-12:00 | 5-minute Poster Presentations | Amphitheatre (room 300) | |
| Chair | Anna Čermáková and Markéta Malá | | |
| | Sumie Akutsu | Translation Learner Corpus: First steps using a corpus approach to teach mediation skills | |
| | Shariya Algama | Here and men as discourse markers in spoken Sri Lankan English: A corpus based pilot study | |
| | Yu-Hua Chen, Simon Harrison and Michael Stevens | Beyond borders, beyond words: A new multimodal corpus of L2 Academic English from a Sino-British University | |
| | Stefan Evert | Measures of productivity and lexical diversity | |
| | Bridget Jankowski | There's no place like this place, any place! Variable quantified compounds of location in Ontario English | |
| | Jakub Jehlička and Eva Lehečková | Towards multimodal constructions: bounded events, bounded gestures | |
| | Joonas Kesäniemi, Turo Vartiainen, Tanja Säily, Agata Dominowska, Aatu Liimatta and Terttu Nevalainen | Making new use of old research: the Language Change Database | |
| | Ilka Mindt | The grammar and semantics of the adjective chosen | |
| | Magnus Nissel | High motor & deceptive athleticism : An analysis of basketball discourse in tweets, comments, and blog posts | |
| | Sara Norja | The mirror of alchemy: Alchemical texts as a source for corpora | |
| | Päivi Pahta, Minna Palander-Collin, Minna Nevala, Arja Nurmi, Turo Hiltunen and Jukka Tyrkkö | Democratisation and language practices: Introducing the DEMLANG project | |
| | Sirkku Ruokkeinen | Presenting knowledge of the world: An analysis of appraisal in the English Renaissance | |
| | Christina Sanchez-Stockhammer | Creating a mosaic of English language usage with student-compiled micro-corpora | |
| | Yuesen Yang and Naixing Wei | Patterns and meanings of verbal hedges in Chinese scholars English research articles: A corpus-based contrastive approach | |
| 12:00-13:30 | Lunch – Ground floor | | |
| | Board Meeting | Room 412 | |

| | Room B (220) | Room C (243) | Room D (319) | |
|-------------|--|---|--|--|
| Chair | Pam Peters and Kathleen Ahrens | Bas Aarts | Christoph Rühlemann | |
| 13:30-13:45 | Krittiaya Ngampradit and Raksangob Wijitsopon: A corpus-based study of metadiscoursal boosters in Applied linguistics dissertations in Thailand and in the United States | Mark Kaunisto and Juhani Rudanko: Agentivity and complement selection: A case study with evidence from large corpora | Karin Aijmer: The intensifier fucking in Spoken BNC14 | |
| 13:45-14:00 | Pam Peters, Tobias Bernaisch and Kathleen Ahrens: Modality, rhetoric and regionality in corpora from Greater China | | | |
| 14:00-14:30 | Haidee Kruger and Bertus van Rooy: A multifactorial analysis of contact-induced constructional change in speech reporting in White South African English | Udo Baumann: Caught between convention and innovation – The case of the progressive in spoken British English | Robbie Love: FUCK in spoken British English revisited with the Spoken BNC2014 | |
| 14:30-15:00 | Kathleen Ahrens and Huiheng Zeng: Metaphors of democracy in the Greater China English Editorial Corpus | Evelyn Gandón Chapela: How long is it from the antecedent to the ellipsis site? Lexical/syntactic distance in English ellipsis | Sali Tagliamonte and Bridget Jankowski: Golly, Gosh and Oh my God! What dialect corpora can tell us about swear words | |
| 15:00-15:30 | Haidee Kruger, Adam Smith and Bertus van Rooy: Colloquialisation vs densification in the British and Australian Hansard: A diachronic multidimensional approach | Gero Kunter: Coquery: a free corpus query tool | Ignacio M. Palacios Martínez: Help me move to that, blood. A corpus-based study of the syntax and pragmatics of vocatives in the language of British teenagers | |
| 15:30-16:00 | Coffee break – 1st floor | | | |
| | Room A (213) | Room B (220) | Room C (243) | Room D (319) |
| Chair | Ilka Mindt | Pam Peters and Kathleen Ahrens | Hilde Hasselgård | Andrew Hardie |
| 16:00-16:30 | Eva Berlage: The semantic-syntactic specialization of composite predicate constructions | Sandra C. Deshors and Paula Rautionaho: The effect of grammatical contexts on the progressive vs. non-progressive alternation across World Englishes | Bas Aarts, Sean Wallis and Jill Bowie: -Ing clauses in English: Structure, usage and recent change | Harri Siirtola, Tanja Säily and Terttu Nevalainen: Text Variation Explorer 2: a new tool for exploring corpora |
| 16:30-17:00 | John Payne and Eva Berlage: Semantic relations in the genitive alternation | Laura Terassa: Past tense and plural omission as potential means to avoid redundancy in Singapore English: Insights from corpus data and a perception experiment | Ngum Meyuhnsi Njende and Kristin Davidse: Enumerating there -clauses and there -clefts: A corpus-based study. | Beatrix Busse, Kirsten Gather and Ingo Kleiber: HeidelGram: A corpus-based network analysis of grammarians' references in 19th-century British grammars |
| 17:00-17:30 | Hang Su: Developing local grammars: A pattern-based approach | | Christoph Wolk and Bridgit Fastrich: Creating custom concordancers for research and teaching | Anna Cichosz: Non-inversion after pain Old English prose: a corpus study |
| 17:30-17:45 | Break | | | |
| 17:45-18:45 | Plenary. Chair: Marianne Hundt | | | Amphitheatre (room 300) |
| | John Kirk and Gerald Nelson: The International Corpus of English (ICE) Project: The next 25 years | | | |

FRIDAY 26 MAY

| | | | | |
|-------------|---|--|---|---|
| 8:00-8:50 | Board Meeting – Room 412 | | | |
| 9:00-10:00 | Plenary. Chair: Beatrix Busse | | | Amphitheatre (room 300) |
| | Michaela Mahlberg: Collocation – New directions and opportunities for interdisciplinarity | | | |
| 10:00-10:30 | Coffee break – 1st floor | | | |
| | Room A (213) | Room C (243) | Room E (38) | Room F (117) |
| Chair | Nicholas Smith | Vaclav Brezina | Peter Crosthwaite | John Flowerdew |
| 10:30-11:00 | Florian Dolberg and Antonina Goltsche: Go (and) look at register distribution on both sides of the pond: usage difference between go-Vand go-and-V in British vs American English | Katharina Ehret, Marten Juskan, Katja Roller and Bernd Kortmann: Exploring English dialects online: The FRED corpus as interactive open-access tool | Kristopher Kyle: Using corpus derived indices related to words, n-grams, and verb argument constructions to predict L2 writing quality | Mikko Laitinen: Placing ELF among the present-day varieties of English: Results from typological profiling |
| 11:00-11:30 | Alexander Lakaw: Diachronic shifts in agreement patterns of collective nouns in American and British English in the 19th and early 20th century | Aatu Liimatta: Exploring register variation on Reddit: a multi-dimensional study of language use on a social media website | Tove Larsson and Henrik Kaatari: Extraposition in learner and expert writing: Rethinking informality | Guyanne Wilson: “There’s different types”: Agreement in there + be existential constructions in Nigerian English |
| 11:30-11:45 | Karolina Rudnicka: Sentence length, genres and grammatical obsolescence | Marie-Louise Brunner, Stefan Diemer and Selina Schmidt: Multimodal meaning making: Developing a taxonomy for the transcription of gesture in a corpus of Skype conversations | Abi Hawtin: The British National Corpus revisited: Developing parameters for Written BNC2014 | Robert Fuchs and Alexandra Esimaje: Enhancing corpus data through perception studies – a look at intensifier strength in British and Nigerian English |
| 11:45-12:00 | | | | Yoshiyuki Notohara: Exploring the epistemic associations between tense-aspect form-meaning usage patterns and canonical event schemata in the spoken English corpus: A collostructional analysis |
| 12:00-12:15 | Florent Perek: Periodization of constructional productivity in diachronic corpora | Peter Uhrig: A corpus infrastructure for accessing multimodal data: News Scape and the Distributed Little Red Hen Lab | Amelia Joulain-Jay: Describing collocation patterns in OCR data: are MI and LL reliable? | Daniela Kolbe-Hanna: Variation in complementizer choice between if and whether |
| 12:15-12:30 | | | | Cinzia Bevitori: Exploring “justice” in parliamentary debates on im/migration through the lens of corpora |
| 13:00-15:00 | Boat trip (including lunch). River boat “Cecílie”, Boarding at pier 9: Dvořákovo nábřeží, Praha 1 | | | |

SATURDAY 27 MAY

| | | | | | |
|-------------|--|---|--|---|--------------------------------|
| 9:00-10:00 | Plenary. Chair: Ute Römer | | | | Amphitheatre (room 300) |
| | Gaëtanelle Gilquin: Hic sunt dracones: Exploring terra incognita in learner corpus research | | | | |
| 10:00-10:30 | Coffee break – 1st floor | | | | |
| | Room A (213) | Room B (220) | Room C (243) | Room D (319) | |
| Chair | Magali Paquot | Belén Méndez-Naya | Alison Sealey | Sali Tagliamonte | |
| 10:30-11:00 | Dana Gablasova: A corpus-based approach to the expression of subjectivity in L2 spoken English: The case of 'I + verb' construction | Tine Breban: Operationalizing semantic change: A micro-analytical approach to identifying grammatical and lexical uses of certain | Antoinette Renouf: The life-cycle of a term in mainstream UK news text | Vaclav Brezina and Matt Timperley: #LancsBox: A new-generation corpus analysis tool | |
| 11:00-11:15 | Peter Crosthwaite: Successful and unsuccessful language features of L2 group oral academic tutorial discussion: A learner corpus approach to language assessment | Ole Schützler: Grammaticalization and subjectification as correlated processes? Diachronic developments of the concessive prepositions in spite of and despite in British and American English | Andrew Hardie: Plotting and comparing corpus lexical growth curves as an assessment of OCR quality in historical news data | Ewa Jonsson: Emotives in screen-mediated communication: from punctuation to emojis and beyond | |
| 11:15-11:30 | | | | | |
| 11:30-11:45 | Ute Römer: The role of formulaic sequences in the L2 acquisition of high-frequency English verbs | Mikko Höglund and Turo Vartiainen: Take your hands off (of) me! On the development of the complex preposition off of | Cathleen Waters and Nick Smith: Very popular at that time: Degree adverbs in the British radio chat show | Gregory Garretson and Rachele De Felice: The Hillary Rodham Clinton emails: Examining world leaders through corpora | |
| 11:45-12:00 | Xiaofei Lu, J. Elliott Casal and Yingying Liu: A corpus-based study of the rhetorical functions of syntactically complex sentences in research article introductions | | Jiří Zámečník: Mode dependent information density | | |
| 12:00-12:15 | John Flowerdew and Meilin Chen: The use of general academic and discipline-specific corpora for research writing: introducing data-driven learning to PhD students in Hong Kong | Zeltia Blanco-Suárez and Mario Serrano-Losada: Needless to say and goes without saying: Diachronic and synchronic considerations | Jarle Ebeling: Bringing closure | Ursula Lutzky: You can ask us on Twitter. Twitter as a means of customer communication for British train companies | |
| 12:15-12:30 | | | Claudia Lückert: Are some words more 'proverbial' than others? The lexical profile of modern American English proverbs based on CAEP-data | | |
| 12:30-13:30 | Lunch – 1st floor | | | | |
| | Board Meeting – Room 412 | | | | |
| | Room A (213) | Room B (220) | Room C (243) | Room D (319) | |
| Chair | Gaëtanelle Gilquin | John Kirk | Signe Oksefjell Ebeling | Antoinette Renouf | |
| 13:30-14:00 | Seth Mehl and Susan Fitzmaurice: Innovations in measuring lexical co-occurrence: Improved implementation for the automatic analysis of discursive meaning | Benedikt Heller, Tobias Bernaisch and Stefan Th. Gries: A corpus-linguistic account of the history of the genitive alternation in Singapore English: Evidence for the transition from nativisation to endonormativity? | Alison Sealey and Bob Carter: Corpora and assemblages – accommodating the non-human world | María José López-Couso and Belén Méndez-Naya: From happenstance to epistemic possibility: Corpus evidence for the adverbialization of happenstance expressions | |

| | | | | |
|-------------|--|---|---|---|
| 14:00-14:15 | Viola Wiegand, Anthony Hennessey, Christoph R. Tench and Michaela Mahlberg: Comparing co-occurrences between corpora | Marianne Hundt: It is time that this (should) be studied across a broader range of Englishes: A global trip around subjunctives | Andrew Kehoe and Matt Gee: Reference and identity in online reader comments: A corpus-based study | Maura Ratia and Carla Suhr: Interpreting the world of late modern English medical writing: From I witnessed to it was observed ? |
| 14:15-14:30 | | | Malgorzata Paprota: (Not) helping. Role allocation in the representation of the British welfare state across the British press: a corpus-assisted discourse analysis | |
| 14:30-14:45 | Magali Paquot and Hubert Naets: The role of the reference corpus in studies of EFL learners' use of statistical collocations | Susanne Wagner: Amplifier-adjective 2-grams world-wide: focus on pretty | Laura Paterson: Visualising corpora using Geographical text analysis: (Un)employment in the UK, a case study | Irma Taavitsainen and Gerold Schneider: Topics of medical writing in Early Modern and Late Modern English medical texts 1500-1800 |
| 14:45-15:00 | | | | Samuel Bourgeois: How discourse markers cross into writing: Colloquialization and the development of actually |
| 15:00-15:15 | Dana Gablasova and Vaclav Brezina: MI-score-based collocations in language learning research: A critical evaluation | Patricia Ronan and Gerold Schneider: Directive speech acts in SPICE Ireland and beyond | Kim-Sue Kreischer: Using collocations to analyse intertextual discourse relations | Matthias Eitelmann and Dagmar Haumann: Variation, loss and renewal: P-elements as transitivizers and transitivity enhancers |
| 15:15-15:30 | Nuria Yáñez-Bouza and Victorina González-Díaz: he neaded the money to finenance his biness – A new corpus of schoolchildren's writings before the UK National Curriculum | | Julia Schlüter and Günter Rohdenburg: Prosodic salience as a determinant of morphological marking | |
| 15:30-16:00 | Coffee break – 1st floor | | | |
| | Room A (213) | Room B (220) | Room C (243) | Room D (319) |
| Chair | Stefan Evert | Thomas Herbst | Robbie Love | María José López-Couso |
| 16:00-16:30 | Stefan Th. Gries and Alexander Wahl: MERGE: A new recursive approach towards multiword expression extraction and four small validation case studies | Martin Schweinberger: Using intensifier-adjective collocations to determine mechanisms of change | Chris Rühlemann and Alexander Ptak: How long does it take to say well ? Durations of words in context in CABNC | Faye Troughton and Lobke Ghesquière: What a transformation! On what's development from identity to degree |
| 16:30-16:45 | Seth Mehl: Corpus frequency and cognitive salience: Finding correlations | Marcus Callies: Patterns of lexico-grammatical variability and innovation in idioms across varieties of English | Karin Axelsson: Tag question in Spoken BNC2014 Early Access Subset | Paloma Núñez-Pertejo: Practically impossible: From 'practicality' to 'approximation' |
| 16:45-17:00 | | | Nele Pöldvere, Carita Paradis and Victoria Johansson: The London-Lund Corpus 2: A new corpus of spoken British English in the making | |
| 17:00-18:00 | General Assembly | | | Amphitheatre (room 300) |
| 19:00 | Gala dinner – Museum of Decorative Arts / Uměleckoprůmyslové museum, 17. listopadu 2, Praha 1 | | | |

SUNDAY 28 MAY

| | | | | |
|-------------|--|--|--|--------------------------------|
| 9:00-10:00 | Plenary. Chair: Merja Kytö | | | Amphitheatre (room 300) |
| | Jan Čermák and Ondřej Tichý: English diachronic corpus linguistics: Prague themes | | | |
| 10:00-10:30 | Coffee break – 1st floor | | | |
| | Room B (220) | Room C (243) | Room D (319) | |
| Chair | | Irma Taavitsainen | Gregory Garretson | |
| 10:30-11:00 | John Kirk and Vander Viana: How homogenous are academic registers in ICE? A corpus-driven approach | Claudia Claridge, Merja Kytö and Ewa Jonsson: A little something goes a long way: The downtoner (a little in the Old Bailey Corpus | Thomas Herbst: Corpus evidence – collocation analysis – ColloConstruction Grammar | |
| 11:00-11:15 | Alexander Kautzsch: Introducing CNameON: A Corpus of Namibian Online Newspapers | Sebastian Wagner: Cromwell's power had never been so immensely great as at this very moment – The discursual function of graduation in LModE historiography | Gunther Kaltenböck: Funny that you should say that: On the use of semi-insubordinate clauses | |
| 11:15-11:30 | Lisa Lehnen: Studying pragmatic variation in second-language varieties of English with the International Corpus of English – challenges and opportunities | | Elena Callegaro and Simon Clematide: The validity of large data-driven and constructional approaches for the investigation of variable article use in English | |
| 11:30-12:00 | Sofia Rüdiger: Preposition Overload? Examining the Use of Prepositions by Korean Speakers of English | Aleš Klégr: Language is embiggened by words that don't exist. The case of a circumfix | Daniel McDonald: tücan: a tool for more sophisticated corpus linguistics | |

We would like to thank for the support:

